CONTENTS

PREFACE

ABBREVIATIONS

PART ONE: THE THEORY

1. The Growth of Protection and International Regimes
   - The New Protectionism
   - The Importance of Textile and Apparel Trade
   - Organization of the Study

2. The Process of International Regime Transformation
   - The Objective: International Regimes
   - An International System Theory of Regime Transformation
   - The Role of Domestic Structure and Decision Makers in Regime Transformation
   - The Methodology: Comparative Case Studies and Process-Tracking

PART TWO: THE CYCLE OF REGIME TRANSFORMATION

   - The Early Period, 1950-1954
   - The American Bilateral Agreements, 1955-1959: Success with Japan
   - The U.K. Agreement with Exporting Countries
   - U.S. Attempts to Restrain Hong Kong Exports
   - The European Arrangements
   - Summary

   - Policy Choices
   - The Negotiations
   - Behavior of Countries and Transactions